NUMBER OF "DIE HARD" ROADS ARE REFUSING PEACE

These Lines Intend to "Carry On" With Their New Unions

OTHERS SIGN PLAN
Thousands of Men Back at Work in Various Shops In Nation.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—Although several rail systems have already signed separate agreements with the railroad shop unions, it was apparent today that a number of the "die hard" roads would remain outside the peace fold.

They will "carry on" with the new unions formed in their shop since strike of July 1 was called and not negotiate peace with the striking shopmen.

The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad is the first of these railroads to definitely announce its attitude against negotiations.

Hale Holden, president, stated that a mutual agreement had been reached with the Burlington shop employees now at work and that a new schedule of rates of pay and working conditions had been adopted.

"The agreement with our new employees has been signed," President Holden announced. "Any consideration by the Burlington of the so-called Willard plan with the outside unions is thus finally disposed of by the recognition of and contract with direct representatives of the present shopcraft employees of the road."

The agreement was reached after a conference between duly elected representatives of the employees and the management. Graduated rates for differing skill and territorial differentials, involving some increases over former rates of pay were agreed to. Rules and working conditions also were revised. The new employees' organization was entirely satisfied with the agreement, it was said.

The action by the Burlington is expected to be followed by similar action on the part of other "die hard" roads, such as the Pennsylvania, the Santa Fe, the Union Pacific and other systems. In the meantime the roads included in the separate agreement plan continue today to confer with the various unions. The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, the Chicago and Northwestern and the Baltimore and Ohio already have adjusted all differences with the striking shopmen and today with thousands of men back at work, preparations were made to open the shops Monday with full shifts of men.

On both the St. Paul and North, western some trouble was reported in getting all of the striking shopmen to return. Various groups were uttering protests against the separate agreement plan and were voting to remain on strike until an agreement should be reached taking back all the members of the shopcraft unions.

FIVE LIVES LOST
IN WHARF BLAZE

New Orleans, Sept. 16.—Five lives were reported lost and damage estimated at $6,000,000 was caused by fire this morning which destroyed the 2,000 foot government wharf and a two story shed in front of the U. S. government army supply base on the river front here.

Originating in a box car loaded with burlap, 600 feet from the up-town end of the wharf, the fire spread rapidly in both directions and in a half hour the entire wharf was ablaze.

INFANT KILLED UNDER CAR

Cincinnati, Sept. 16.—Tobert Ruchmann, 2 year old son of John Ruchmann, president of an undertaking company which bears his name and secretary of the Western and Southern Life Insurance company, was killed instantly early Friday night when he fell under the wheels of the family car as the chauffeur was backing it out of the garage.

One of the wheels passed over the boy's body and a doctor who was summoned pronounced him dead. Two brothers of the little victim, William, 5, and John Jr., 4, were in the car at the time.

BRIDGE DYNAMITED

Cumberland, Md., Sept. 16.—The Welton Tunnel bridge on the Western Maryland railroad over the Potomac river, was dynamited at 4 o'clock this morning. The bridge is opposite South Cumberland and Ridgeley, W. Va., and residents of both sections were aroused by the explosion, which broke windows in some houses. The authorities believe it was the work of amateurs or the damage would have been much greater. The loss is placed at $500.

SENATOR DECLARES
IT IS TIME FOR AMERICAN ACTION

Threat of World War Due to Failure of Allies to Enforce Treaty

Washington, Sept. 16.—The threat of world war due to the near east crisis which has followed the new bid of the young Turks for power is due to the failure of the allied powers to enforce the treaty of Sevres, Senator William H. King of Utah today declared to International News Service.

Military supplies also were furnished Kemal Pasha by two of the allied states, King said.

"The Allies knew the Kemalists were arming," said King, "and two allied states even furnished them with military supplies and munitions of war. They must have known these supplies would be used against the Greeks and inevitably result in the resuscitation of Turkey as a military power, with consequent influence upon Moslems all over the world."

"This action tends not only to produce another Balkan war but a new European conflict and possibly even another world war. Some action must be taken or 1,000,000 Christians will be slain in Asia Minor. It is time for the United States to act in the name of humanity."

Senator King declared he would call the attention of the senate to the massacre of Christians in Asia Minor and would renew his request that this government use its good offices to have the Sevres pact enforced.

Senator Sheppard, Democrat of Texas, declared that if this country had entered the league of nations the present trouble, in the near east would have been avoided.

Unless the United States does enter the league, said Sheppard, "the sparks may flame into a universal conflagration at any time."

Teacher Marries Her
Italian Pupil

Alva Richards, pretty San Jose (Cal.) high school teacher, twenty-one years old, was denied the company of young men, so what did she do but elope with a handsome young Italian pupil of her night school class Joseph Garcia, to whom she was teaching English. The youth earns twenty five cents an hour at irregular work in a cannery, and his bride, who has not yet reported back at school earns $225 a month by teaching both day and night classes.

PACKING MERGER IS BELIEVED NEAR

Chicago, Sept. 16.—The much discussed merger between the great meat interests of Armour and Company and Wilson and Company, was again reported to be nearing consummation. The merger if effected would represent a combined valuation of $417,000,000.

Both J. Ogden Armour, head of the Armour interests and Thomas W. Wilson, president of Wilson and Company were in New York and this lent credence to the reports. The publicity department of Armour and Company issued a statement saying that officers of the company knew nothing of the reported merger.

Hundred Thousand Idle As Ford Plants
Close Down For Indefinite Period

Stoppage of Production in Detroit Announced for Monday Will Affect Many More In Nation—May Continue for Two Months—Most Complete In Firms History

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 16.—One hundred thousand men in Detroit and vicinity will be out of work today and many factories throughout the country, making Ford parts, will be forced to shut down following the closing of Henry Ford's plants here, announced for Monday.

Already the men in Ford's Detroit plants have been notified that they were laid off indefinitely. The first army of men to be laid off was the River Rouge force, which ordinarily numbers 18,000. They were ordered at 11 o'clock last night to turn in their tools and informed their services were not required.

The Highland Park force, normally 45,000 men, got word late yesterday they would be suspended indefinitely.

No word has yet been given out by either Henry or Edsel Ford. The last statement from the elder Ford was his threat a few weeks ago to close if the coal and steel interests continued their policy of "gouging."

Other officials at the Ford plant said today that they believed Mr. Ford would make good his threat to shut down.

Seventy thousand Ford workers in the vicinity of Detroit are affected and 30,000 others in auxiliary plants here will be out of jobs. It is impossible to estimate exactly how many other men in other cities will be laid off, but it is believed the Ford shut down will affect hundreds of thousands throughout the country.

The municipally owned lines arranged to curtail service to the Ford plant today following a conference between the Fords and street railway officials.

Employees were warned by their foremen to conserve their financial resources. This hint of a long lay off is the only word given that would indicate the duration of the suspension. Guesses were made, by some officials that it would last at least three weeks, possibly two months.

The coal situation at the various plants has improved during the past two weeks, according to officials, but Ford workers are going to suffer because of inability to buy coal and coke of the company as they have done in the past.

Shop foremen say the average Ford worker cannot afford to be idle more than two weeks.

The shutdown is one of the most complete ever effected in the Ford organization, it was stated. Even the trade school is closed.

BLIMP COMMANDER
GREETED HIS MOTHER

Cincinnati, Sept. 16.—When the United States army dirigible C-2 arrived over Cincinnati shortly after 5 o'clock Friday afternoon its first performance was to seek out a certain Winton Place home and circle twice above it before letting go a bouquet of flowers for Mrs. Samuel Straus, proud mother of the airship's commander, Major Straus.

She stood on the lawn of her home and gazed up at the monster of the skies, which her son's hand was guiding through graceful maneuvers, tremulously waving a handkerchief to a figure that peered down with goggled eyes as the huge ship ducked and nodded in greeting.

The C-2 then proceeded to downtown Cincinnati where it succeeded in tying up traffic for five minutes while thousands of office workers just starting home watched it in open mouthed wonder. Five minutes more and it was disappearing in the distance as it resumed its long flight to St. Louis.

Turkish Quarter Target of Guns—Thousands Dead as Turk Atrocities Take Place—Christians Are Mowed Down By Troops

CONFLAGRATION "WORST FIRE IN HISTORY"

Harbor Full of Floating Corpses Following Terrible Scenes in City—British Consulate Is Destroyed.

Malta, Sept. 16.—The British Mediterranean fleet is concentrating in the Dardanelles off Tchanak-Kalesseh, it was learned today. Reinforcements of air forces are being sent to the Turkish straits to assist the British fleet. The fleet is under orders to prevent the Turks from crossing into Europe.

Riga, Sept. 16.—Soviet Russia is prepared to aid the Turkish nationalists to take Constantinople from the allies, according to reports received here today. Two divisions of Russian troops are said to be in Batoum. General Kameneff, commander of the Russian red army, has left Batoum for an unknown destination.

London, Sept. 16.—A tense situation of threatened war prevailed in the European chancelleries today while the powers waited for the Turkish national government at Angora to answer the allied ultimatum warning the Turks not to attempt to invade Europe.

The Turkish peace and armistice terms as telegraphed from Angora are of such a nature as to arouse the utmost pessimism. The Turks are demanding:

1.—That all the occupied areas of Anatolia and Thrace be turned back to Turkey.

2.—That the Greek troops remaining in Turkey be surrendered unconditionally to the Turks along with their arms and munitions.

3.—That the "enemy" recognize Turkish sovereignty in Thrace and Asia Minor.

4.—That the "enemy" relinquish all aspirations in the near east at the expense of Turkey.

5.—That Greece pay indemnity and make reparations.

6.—That all persons guilty of atrocities be handed over to the Turkish nationalists for punishment.

Angora officials were quoted as saying that no other terms were acceptable.

Premier Lloyd George has gone to his country estate at Chequers Court for the week end. In the meantime the British government will not take any action regarding the near east.

London, Sept. 16.—Smyrna has been bombarded by the Greek warship Kiklos, according to a Central News dispatch from Athens today. The cannonade was centered against the Turkish quarter of the city.

All of Smyrna has been destroyed or damaged by fire with the exception of the Turkish quarter. The conflagration spread to neighboring villages.

It is impossible to give definite estimate of the dead but it is feared that they will run into thousands. The harbor is full of floating corpses. More than 100,000 are threatened with death from starvation. Panic prevails among the refugees.

Disorders are reported from Adrianople where revolution was said yesterday to have broken out against Greek authority. Detachments of allied marines tried to land at Smyrna to reinforce the allied military forces in the city but were prevented by Turkish nationalist troops, according to the Greek government. The Greeks claim that the Turks were upon the harbor front and turned back the boats bearing the marines.

The conflagration which swept Smyrna is described by the Smyrna correspondent of the London Daily Mail as "the worst fire in history." An unbroken wave of flame two miles long stormed through the city, leaving utter ruin in its wake.

There was a pandemonium of noise with refugee women, children and men milling and shrieking in their panic. Crowds rushed to and fro in the streets so stricken with terror that they did not know what they were doing. There were continuous explosions of ammunition.

The worst scenes were on the quays where the fugitive Christians hovered only to be cut down by Turkish soldiers. The wharves were covered with corpses. The refugees knelt with upraised hands screaming for mercy and imploring ships to come to their aid.

The British consulate was destroyed.

ATTORNEY GENERAL
PUT ON TRIAL BY HOUSE COMMITTEE

Impeachment Proceedings Under Charges Filed Are Started Saturday

Washington, Sept. 16.—The attempt to impeach Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty failed to make any material progress today when the case was called for hearing by the house judiciary committee.

After some wrangling among the committee members, the hearing was postponed until next Tuesday morning to allow Rep. Keller, Republican of Minnesota who began the impeachment proceedings time to get his evidence together.

P. R. R. WILL RENEW
ITS WAGE CONTRACT

Cleveland, Sept. 16.—Negotiations for a renewal of the present wage contract between the Pennsylvania system and the brotherhood of locomotive engineers and brotherhood of locomotive firemen and engine men are under way today, it was revealed by Warren S. Stone, grand chief of the engineers.

The negotiations are being conducted by the general chairman of the organizations affected with officials of the company. An agreement upon terms with the Pennsylvania, it was believed here would lead to a quick settlement with other roads throughout the country. Present contracts expire September 30.

FIRING IS HEAVY IN IRISH CITIES

Dublin, Sept. 16.—There was heavy firing here throughout the night. Fighting was reported also from Cork, Limerick, Tipperary and Tarbert. There was an eight hour fight in Donoghmore street. The casualties are not known. The free state garrison at Tarbert was captured by irregulars.

A serious economic situation has developed due to the interruption of railway traffic and telephone and telegraph communication. Food cannot be transported and some districts are in need of fuel and food.

BOY IS DROWNED WHEN HE IS SEIZED WITH CRAMPS

Cincinnati, Sept. 16.—Unable to employ his skill as a swimmer when seized suddenly by cramps, Barney Latham, 14, drowned in the Ohio river at the foot of Freeman Avenue Friday afternoon where he had gone with several companions for dip after school.

A fire company life saving company recovered the body twenty minutes later and tried to revive the lad for an hour and a half but in vain. A fourteen and fifteen year old companion tried to rescue his drowning companion but were unable to reach him after his cry for help until he sank.

OVER TWENTY SEVEN THOUSAND HOGS SHIPPED IN LAST SEVENTEEN MONTHS BY LIVESTOCK SHIPPING COMPANY

Notable Record Achieved By Organization During Year and Half of Its Life—W. H. Smith Manages Work of Association.

Last but not least of the organizations in Greene County agricultural circles, that illustrate the widespread efficiency of the Greene County Farm Bureau, is the Greene County Livestock Shipping Company.

The Greene County Livestock Shipping Company, was formed in February and March 1921, organized for the purpose of giving farmers of the county an opportunity to ship their own livestock, through an organization in touch with the Greene County Farm Bureau.

The stock for the county shipping organization is capitalized for $3,000, the stock being divided into shares having a par value of $1. The stock was bought for the shippers by the Greene County Farm Bureau, the money being paid from the treasury of the County Farm Bureau organization, into the treasury of the Livestock Shipping Company, giving any Farm Bureau member a right to ship their livestock through the company.

As soon as the company was organized the Board of Directors of the organization met and selected as their manager, W. H. Smith, farmer, Mr. Smith is at present living in Cedarville, but owns a farm in Ross township. He has been active as manager of the county-wide shipping organization, since the company started shipping in April 1, 1921.

The following figures have been submitted by Mr. Smith as manager, of the amount of business completed by the shipping organization since its formation. The number of livestock shipped in the last seventeen months according to the manager, has included 27,200 hogs, 333 calves, 85 cattle and 2530 sheep. The total weight of the livestock is 4,450,000 pounds. The average cost of shipping including the shrinkage has been less than one dollar per hundred according to the figures compiled. The total amount of business transacted through the organization in that length of time has been $490,846.

The present Board of Directors of the company, consists of Arthur Cummings, Ross Township, president; C. D. Lackey, Silvercreek, secretary; and the following Board members: A. E. Beam, Spring Valley, F. B. Neff, Bath Township, Jacob Heinz, Spring Valley, Bev. Andrews, Cedarville Tp., and E. J. Ferguson, Beaver Creek Tp.

While serving as manager of the Company, Mr. Smith has found it necessary to get men in outlying districts to assist him in the work and accordingly he appointed a number of sub-managers, H. M. St. John, Cedar Creek and Lester McDorman, of Ross Township, now serving in that capacity.

The Livestock Company has proved popular as a way for farmers to dispose of their livestock, and gives

"Better Than Ever" Is Goal Of Annual Farm Tour

"Bigger and better than ever," is the opinion of County Farm Bureau agent and other farmers and agricultural men of the county of the Fourth Annual Farm Bureau tour, to be staged by the Greene County Farm Bureau, September 28 and 29.

Contrary to custom the farmers attending the tour will spend one day visiting farms outside of Greene County. The tour will be launched Monday, when the fleet of farmers will go to the farm of R. Oster, in Yellow Springs, where they will visit the Oster poultry plant. From there they will go to Antioch College, and then to Clark County to visit the farm of Ralph Howell and son, to inspect Poland China hogs. In Clark county the farmers will also visit Smith Brothers farm, a Percheron horse farm. The Scarff seed farm at New Carlisle will be next visited, the first day's tour to end with a visit to the farm of Howard GeLaugh, near Osborn, to see Duroc Jersey hogs.

The second day's tour will be in the nature of a stock judging contest when the men, women and children attending the tour, will judge Short-horn cattle, Poland China hogs, and Holstein cattle. Farms to be visited on this day's tour will be within the Greene County boundary line, the schedule to be announced later.

The committee in charge of the annual Farmers' tour consists of William Hardman, Miami Township, E. R. Andrews, Ross; E. H. Smith, Silvercreek and E. J. Kelsey, Spring Valley.

The Annual Farm bureau tour is fourth that, the Greene County Farm Bureau has sponsored, the annual event being inaugurated in 1919, and every year the crowds have grown larger, and this year it is anticipated that a bigger time and bigger crowds will feature the event. All farmers attending the tour are asked to bring well filled lunch baskets, a dinner along the road to be enjoyed both days.

COUNTY IN LITTLE DANGER FROM THE HESSIAN FLY NOW

Greene County is in little danger from the Hessian Fly damage to wheat, as explained in the following letter received by County Agent Ford S. Prince, from T. H. Parks, Extension Entomologist of Ohio State University, in regard to the safe date for sowing wheat.

The letter follows: "Having been requested to write you about the safe wheat sowing date to avoid Hessian Fly, the following remarks may be of interest.

"Greene County is in very good shape regarding Hessian Fly. As to the likelihood of its damage, there is not enough Hessian Fly present in that county to make a campaign of late sowing necessary. However, we consider it good policy, in the future to observe safe seeding dates in so far as practicable and for this reason I would suggest that you wait until September 30th before sowing any wheat.

"A co-operative effort to do this will, in our opinion, prevent Hessian Fly from ever being the menace it was two years ago."

GRAIN SHOW WILL BE HELD DURING FARMERS' INSTITUTE

In connection with the Farmer's Institute this year, the Greene County Farm Bureau is announcing that plans are being made for having a Grain Show at Beaver Creek Township. The products to be exhibited in the show will include the most common varieties of grains grown locally, and will include varieties of corn, wheat, oats, soy beans, etc.

The grains will be shown in quantities as commonly required at fairs, and will also be classed on the same basis. Prizes will be given for the best exhibits of each variety, the money for prizes being donated by the Greene County Farm Bureau, Granges and other organizations. At the country farm bureau meeting on September 4 a resolution was passed that the organization give $10 toward the fund.

"It is expected that the show will bring out the best produce in the Township," says County Agent Ford S. Prince, "and in order to do this it will be necessary to start picking out the best material for exhibit in a short time. In order to get a good exhibit of corn, which will consist of ten ears for each variety, it should be picked out during harvesting, as it is almost impossible to go into the crib and pick out good exhibits of corn."

NO SAFE SOWN WHEAT DRIVE IS NEEDED HERE

Announcing safe-sowing dates for southern Ohio wheat today, entomologists of the Ohio State University expressed the opinion that no special county campaign for safe-sowing will be necessary in southern counties this fall.

They said that by means of such campaigns in the past and through practically unanimous observance of these dates on the part of southern Ohio farmers, Hessian Fly in the counties south of Columbus, has been cut down to less than a 5 per cent infestation. This, it was added, means that the pest has practically been routed from this part of the state.

TO START SELLING OF MILK OCTOBER 1 IT IS NOW BELIEVED

That the Miami Valley Cooperative Milk Producers' Association will start the actual selling of milk by October 1, seems now a certainty, according to Farm Bureau officials, who gain their opinion from the harmony existing between the Farm Bureau and members of the dairy organizations, in adopting the plan submitted by the Manager and Trustees of the Miami Valley organization.

Meetings are being held by each local cream station in Greene County to explain the status of the organization and also to discuss the platform of the organization. Farmers of the county are urged to attend meetings in their vicinity in order to learn of the institutions.

A conference between the manager and the Trustees of the organization and the Dayton distributors has been called for September 12 to discuss the price of milk.

Meanwhile cream stations are being rapidly organized over the county, and on September 1 there were fourteen farmers' stations in operation and seven more nearly ready for operation in the ten counties. Six of these are already working in Greene county, turning out along over $10,000 worth of business each month, about $125,000 a year. The Miami Valley Cooperative Milk Producers' Organization will be doing a million dollar business in a few months if present plans go forward.

BEST WHEAT YIELD GIVEN BY TRUMBULL DURING PAST YEAR

Of the new varieties of wheat introduced in Greene County during the past four years, Trumbull has given the best yield during 1922, according to County Agent Ford S. Prince. In some localities Gladden wheat has also made a good yield. These two varieties are pure and Trumbull is especially resistant to the diseases which attack wheat say authorities on crops.

Certified seed of Trumbull and Gladden can be bought in Greene Co. at $1.50 per bushel, and other crops of these varieties can be secured at from $1.25 to $1.35 per bushel. A few of the old standard wheats have also given outstanding yields during the past season. Included in these are Cumberland Valley, Rudy and Fultz.

Another new variety which has been recently broadcasted by the Ohio Experiment station, is the Fulhio, says Mr. Prince. This is a sister variety to the Trumbull, both of them being pure line selections from the Fultz. The Fulhio variety is especially adapted to Southwestern Ohio and can be secured as certified seed.

Mr. Prince has at the Farm Bureau office a list of certified seed wheat growers in Ohio and will be glad to cite farmers to sources of pure seed wheat.

HOLD SEED CORN DEMONSTRATIONS

Two seed corn selection demonstrations will be on the program of the Greene County Farm Bureau next week, according to the announcement of County Agent Prince.

The farm of S. K. Williamson and son at Cedarville will be the scene of the first at nine-thirty o'clock Monday. In afternoon the farmers will go to the farm of George Glass, in Ross township, where the demonstration will be held at one thirty o'clock.

TRUCK CROP YIELDS GOOD IN OHIO DURING YEAR

Ohio's melon acreage is from 10 to 20 per cent greater than last year and the yield is from 5 to 10 per cent greater, so that it is not difficult to understand why the markets have been well supplied with home grown melons.

The tomato yield is at least 10 per cent better than last year. Present conditions indicate an onion yield of about 10 points above last year.

Sugar beet prospects are fairly good with indications for about four fifths of a normal full crop.

OHIO'S CORN CROP SMALLEST SINCE 1918 REPORT SHOWS

From present indications Ohio will have a corn crop of around 145,000,000 bushels this year, which is 8,000,000 bushels less than last year and the smallest crop since 1918.

When 130,000,000 bushels were produced. The crop may be described as about an average crop, according to reports received by C. J. West, Statistician for the State Federal Crop Reporting Service.

Corn is much better than last year in most of the Southwestern counties of the State and it is also better in several of the Western counties where the dry weather of last year cut the crop short. The Northwestern counties have not been able to overcome the handicap arising from the wet spring and consequent late planting and as a result the crop in this part of the State is not up to the usual standard. The Eastern part of the State does not have as good prospects this year as was true in this section a year ago. Altogether the crop is close to the average for all sections of the State with the best corn in the Central and Southwestern counties.

The great surplus corn State of Iowa has an unusually good prospect for a heavy corn crop this year and reports from Illinois indicate a large crop for that State.

Oats' Crop Very Poor

The total oats crop for the State is the lowest, except for the extremely poor crop of last year, since 1918, and the quality is only fair. Reports from field correspondents indicate that the average yield per acre of oats, taking the State as a whole will not be far from 28 bushels, with an average weight per measured bushel of 28 pounds. This low yield leads to the estimate of the total crop of about 42,000,000 bushels. Last year's crop was 37,000,000 bushels.

The Northeastern and some of the Eastern Counties report good yields of oats of high quality, but in all other sections of the state the crop is a thoroughgoing disappointment. In the United States this year's oats crop bears about the same relation to last year's as in Ohio. From present indications the crop for the whole country will not be far from 1,250,000,000 bushels, last year's crop was only a little more than 1,000,000,000.

Knotting of Comforts or A Quilting Party Which?

IN the days of grandmother's early recollections, the Quilting Bee was quite a social function. The participants came early in the forenoon, remained for dinner and sometimes even for tea. Your quilting or knotting party will stand even a better chance than hers, for nowadays the fabrics and accessories for making quilts and comforts are ever so much more attractive. MISSIONARY SOCIETY ENTERTAINED FRIDAY.

Mrs. Ruth Foster, the new president of the Young Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, opened her home on the Springfield pike, Friday afternoon to the members of the society.

Mrs. Foster was assisted by her mother, Mrs. A. M. Tomkinson and presided over the program of the afternoon which was opened with a talk by Mrs. Ray Ledbetter, who reported on the Missionary address given by Miss Mary J. Campbell at the Greene County W. C. T. U. Convention, Wednesday.

Mrs. G. A. Scott, gave the missionary points brought out at the session of the West Ohio Methodist Conference held recently in Dayton. An interesting paper on "The Work For Babies in India" was read by Mrs. Harry Lampert. Members of the society paid their dues at the meeting.

Mrs. Foster served a dainty refreshment course at the close of the program.

Mr. and Mrs. William Sutton and daughter, Mrs. Edward A. Kern, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Sutton, Mrs. D. D. Watt, Mrs. Viola Gowdy, Mrs. Anna Harverstick and Rev. W. H. Tilford and daughter, Jean, formed a jolly little party that enjoyed a watermelon feast at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John McClain on the Columbus pike Thursday afternoon. A number of delicious melons were brought in and carved and the afternoon was delightfully spent.

Miss Marcena Harbison, who is employed in the office of John Harbison, has returned home after spending a vacation of a week visiting in Columbus.

Believe Amundsen On Cross Pole Trip

Belief that Captain Raold Amundsen, Arctic explorer, has started his flight from his ship Maude across the North Pole has been aroused by the statement that Captain Gottfried Hansen, noted Danish explorer, has been asked by the Danish Government to carry fresh supplies to the place where Amundsen may be expected to land. Hansen had already prepared plans for exploring Western Greenland and was unable to comply with the request, but another expedition was formed.

SHOPMEN OF P. R. R. ARE EXPECTED AT WORK IN MONTH

Columbus, Sept. 16.—Abandonment of the policy of "stay out until we all go back" by the rail shopmen of this city is indicated by statements of local labor leaders.

Employees of roads signing the Chicago agreement are expected to go back to work as soon as notified by district union leaders it is said.

Shopmen of the Pennsylvania road, expect to return to work within 30 days, according to predictions of local union officials.

NEW BURLINGTON

A quiet wedding occurred Thursday morning when Miss Goldie Ary of Port William, became the bride of Edward Compton of New Burlington.

The ceremony was performed at the parsonage by Rev. Jesse Hawkins, pastor of the Friends Church.

They were unattended. Miss Ary was married in a dress of navy blue silk Canton crepe with grey trimmings and carnal roses. Her hat, coat, shoes and hose were of grey.

After a wedding dinner at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Compton, they left for a motor trip to several points.

They will make their home upon their return for the present with his parents in South Burlington.

UNITED IN MARRIAGE SATURDAY MORNING

A pretty wedding ceremony was performed at the parsonage of Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church, the Rev. V. P. Brown officiating, Saturday morning at ten thirty o'clock, when Miss Vesper Marguerite Benson and Mr. Harley M. Holton, north of Springfield, were united in marriage.

The ceremony was witnessed by the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. George Benson, of Springfield, the single ring service being used. The bride's outfit was a navy blue crepe dress combined with henna shade, with a hat to match. Following the wedding service, the wedding party were guests at a luncheon at the bride's parents home. Mr. and Mrs. Holton will reside in Springfield, where Mr. Holton is associated in the grocery business with his father.

Funeral services for Miss Scott Brundage will be held Monday afternoon, September 18, at the home of the Misses Florence and Gertrude Wayne, 244 Linden Ave., Dayton, at 2:30 o'clock, Dayton time. The body will then be brought to this city for burial and a short service will be held at the Woodland Cemetery chapel at 2:30 o'clock Xenia time.

REV. W. W. CULP RELEASED ON ONE CHARGE IS ARRESTED FOR MOVING MORTGAGED AUTO; TO TAKE CASE TO HIGHER COURTS

Liberty was short lived for the Rev. W. W. Culp, erstwhile Springfield minister, who eloped with Esther Hughes, June 14, and was released Saturday from the Dayton Work House where he was sentenced by Judge J. Carl Marshall in juvenile court here on an abandonment charge.

Immediately on his release Culp was rearrested by Dayton officers on a charge of moving mortgaged property, the same being the Dodge car in which he and the village music teacher eloped. When his attorney, Charles W. Folkerth, of Dayton, surrendered Culp to the officers with the Dayton warrant, he just saved the famous preacher from being served with a warrant charging non-support by Prosecuting Attorney J. Kenneth Williamson, of this city, who was armed with the warrant to prevent Culp's total escape from the arms of the law.

Culp was released from the Work House, where he was working out a year's sentence and a $500 fine for abandoning his wife and nine children, on a technicality. Judge Harry N. Rutzohn held that in the affidavit on which he was committed from the local court that the venue was not made sufficiently clear, because, due to an error of the printing company the words "State of Ohio" were not contained in the body of the document following the words "County of Greene."

The title at the head of the paper stated clearly "County of Greene, State of Ohio," but where the name of the county was repeated in the

CONTROVERSY OVER TREASURER'S OFFICE ARISES OVER QUESTION OF SHORT TERM; SECRETARY OF STATE TO GIVE RULING

Will there be a short term Treasurer elected in Greene County this fall?

An interesting controversy on whether the names of Elbert L. Babb and Mrs. Carrie R. Faulkner will appear as independent candidates for the short term of whether Mrs. Faulkner's present appointment will hold good, has arisen within the last 24 hours.

The newest chapter of the treasurer's office question was brought to light Friday when Mrs. Faulkner received a letter from Secretary of State Harvey C. Smith in which he rendered an opinion that there will be no short term candidates to elect in November. This letter was supplemented by a letter received by the board of elections Saturday morning substantiating the information in the letter to Mrs. Faulkner. Still later the Secretary of State expressed himself in a telephone conversation to Babb that these written opinions might be wrong and that it might be necessary for him to reverse himself.

The board of elections will not let its contracts for the printing of the November election ballots for about two weeks, according to Clerk Carl Ervin Saturday afternoon. In this time the board expects to receive a final decree on the question of whether the candidacies are valid, so that there will be no mistake in printing the tickets.

The letter received by Mrs. Faulkner was in answer to an inquiry directed by her to the Secretary of State, after she had filed her declaration of candidacy as an opponent to Babb for the supposed short term, which was believed would exist from the time of the regular election until the first Monday in August next year, when the regularly elected Treasurer is seated. The letter received by the board of elections said practically the same as the letter to Mrs. Faulkner and is as follows:

"Upon receipt of an inquiry from Mrs. Carrie Faulkner, Treasurer of Greene County, Ohio, appointed to fill the vacancy created by the death of John H. McVay, I beg to advise that I have informed Mrs. Faulkner that her appointment was for the unexpired term of the deceased treasurer and that there is no provision of law for the election of a Treasurer of Greene County for the short term at the coming election.

"I am notifying you of this case because I have been informed that some declarations of candidacy for a short term have been filed with you. "You are hereby instructed that you are not warranted in providing for the election of a Treasurer for the short term."

Within a few hours after this opinion was received by Carl Ervin, clerk of the election board, Secretary of State Smith admitted to Babb the possibility of his having to reverse this opinion.

In a telephone conversation with The Gazette and The Republican Saturday afternoon the Secretary of State said:

"It appears to me that we may have to reverse ourselves so far as letters which were sent to the Greene County Board of Elections and the present Treasurer are concerned. Those letters were merely expressions of opinion and neither they, nor my statement this afternoon this afternoon, are final in any sense of the word. We will take this matter up with the attorney general's office early next week and will issue a final ruling after we have gone thoroughly into the law.

"Our office does not have to handle questions of this sort. They are up to the prosecuting attorney and the attorney general's office. As soon as we make a ruling on the matter it will be forwarded to the Board of Elections of Greene County."

Mr. Smith reiterated, with emphasis, that nothing he has said up to this time must be construed as being a final ruling on the subject. He did say, however, that in his opinion if no candidates had filed for the term under dispute, the incumbent would automatically remain in office for the entire unexpired term of John H. McVay.

This opinion offers two angles from which the Treasurer's fight can be considered. The situation in the office began when J. E. Sutton resigned as deputy and Elbert L. Babb was appointed by the late Treasurer John H. McVay to succeed him. At McVay's death the county commissioners appointed Mrs. Carrie R.

Faulkner treasurer, to succeed him, and Babb resigned as deputy immediately, Lawrence McKee being appointed in his place.

Both Babb and Mrs. Faulkner filed declarations of candidacy for the so-called short term on the last day of filing for independent candidates. If these nominations are permitted to stand they will oppose each other for election for a term as Treasurer that will begin on the day of the regular election in November and end on the first Monday in August, 1923, when the candidate elected for the regular term at the regular election will take office. These regular term candidates are Frank Jackson, Republican and Harry A. Higgins, Democrat. Voters, if this condition will exist, will vote for one short term and one regular term candidate.

Mr. Babb said Friday that he had obtained an opinion on an existing vacancy from the Secretary of State before making his determination to be a candidate for the office. He also expressed confidence that the Secretary of State's statement Saturday would mean that the authority he had for running for the office holds good, and that both names will appear on the ballots in November.

Babb stated that his nomination by petition has been filed; that it has been accepted by the Board of Elections and ordered placed on the ballot, an that he is depending on Section 10 of the General Code, which, together with Section 2636, follows:

General Code—Section 2636—How Vacancy in Office of Treasurer Filled.

When the office of County Treasurer becomes vacant by death, removal, resignation, neglect to give bond or other cause, the commissioners shall forthwith appoint a suitable person to fill such vacancy. The person so appointed shall give bond and take an oath as required by law.

General Code—Section 10—Term of Appointee to Elective Office.

When an elective office becomes vacant, and is filled by appointment, such appointee shall hold the office until his successor is elected and qualified. Unless otherwise provided by law, such successor shall be elected for the unexpired term at the first general election for the office which is vacant that occurs more than thirty days after the vacancy shall have occurred. This section shall not be construed to postpone the time for such election beyond that at which it would have been held had no such vacancy occurred, nor to affect the official term, or the time for the commencement thereof, of any person elected to such office before the occurrence of such vacancy.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY ENTERTAINED FRIDAY

Mrs. Ruth Foster, the new president of the Young Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, opened her home on the Springfield pike, Friday afternoon to the members of the society.

Mrs. Foster was assisted by her mother, Mrs. A. M. Tonkinson and presided over the program of the afternoon which was opened with a talk by Mrs. Ray Ledbetter, who reported on the Missionary address given by Miss Mary J. Campbell at the Greene County W. C. T. U. Convention, Wednesday.

Mrs. G. A. Scott, gave the missionary points brought out at the session of the West Ohio Methodist Conference held recently in Dayton. An interesting paper on "The Work For Babies in India" was read by Mrs. Harry Lampert. Members of the society paid their dues at the meeting.

Mrs. Foster served a dainty refreshment course at the close of the program.

Mr. and Mrs. William Sutton and daughter, Mrs. Edward A. Kern, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Sutton, Mrs. D. D. Watt, Mrs. Viola Gowdy, Mrs. Anna Harverstick and Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Tilford and daughter, Jean, formed a jolly little party that enjoyed a watermelon feast at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John McClain on the Columbus pike Thursday afternoon. A number of delicious melons were brought in and carved and the afternoon was delightfully spent.

Miss Marcena Harbison, who is employed in the office of John Harbison, has returned home after spending a vacation of a week visiting in Columbus.

Believe Amundsen On Cross Pole Trip

Capt. Raold Amundsen

Belief that Captain Raold Amundsen, Arctic explorer, has started his flight from his ship Maude across the North Pole has been aroused by the statement that Captain Gottfried Hansen, noted Danish explorer, has been asked by the Danish Government to carry fresh supplies to the place where Amundsen may be expected to land. Hansen had already prepared plans for exploring Western Greenland and was unable to comply with this request, but another expedition was formed.

SHOPMEN OF P. R. R. ARE EXPECTED AT WORK IN MONTH

Columbus, Sept. 16.—Abandonment of the policy of "stay out until we all go back" by the rail shopmen of this city is indicated by statements of local labor leaders.

Employees of roads signing the Chicago agreement are expected to go back to work as soon as notified by district union leaders it is said.

Shopmen of the Pennsylvania road, expect to return to work within 30 days, according to predictions of local union officials.

NEW BURLINGTON

A quiet wedding occurred Thursday morning when Miss Goldie Ary of Port William, became the bride of Edward Compton of New Burlington.

The ceremony was performed at the parsonage by Rev. Jesse Hawkins, pastor of the Friends Church.

They were unattended. Miss Ary was carried in a dress of navy blue silk tulle with grey trimmings and carnations. Her hat, coat, shoes and hose were of grey.

After a wedding dinner at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Compton, they left for a motor trip to several points.

They will make their home upon their return for the present with his parents in South Burlington.

UNITED IN MARRIAGE SATURDAY MORNING

A pretty wedding ceremony was performed at the parsonage of Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church, the Rev. V. F. Brown officiating, Saturday morning at ten thirty o'clock, when Miss Vesper Marguerite Benson and Mr. Harley M. Holton, north of Springfield, were united in marriage.

The ceremony was witnessed by the parents of the bride, M. and Mrs. George Benson, of Springfield, and the single ring service being used. The bride's outfit was a navy blue crepe dress combined with henna shade, with a hat to match. Following the wedding service, the wedding party were guests at a luncheon at the bride's parents home. Mr. and Mrs. Holton will reside in Springfield, where Mr. Holton is associated in the grocery business with his father.

Funeral services for Miss Scott Brundage will be held Monday afternoon, September 18, at the home of the Misses Florence and Gertrude Waymire, 244 Linden Ave., Dayton, at 2:30 o'clock, Dayton time. The body will then be brought to this city for burial and a short service will be held at the Woodland Cemetery chapel at 2:30 o'clock Xenia time.

REV. W. W. CULP RELEASED ON ONE CHARGE IS ARRESTED FOR MOVING MORTGAGED AUTO; TO TAKE CASE TO HIGHER COURTS

Liberty was short lived for the Rev. W. W. Culp, erstwhile Springfield minister, who eloped with Esther Hughes, June 14, and was released Saturday from the Dayton Work House where he was sentenced by Judge J. Carl Marshall in juvenile court here on an abandonment charge.

Immediately on his release Culp was rearrested by Dayton officers on a charge of moving mortgaged property, the same being the Dodge car in which he and the village music teacher eloped. When his attorney, Charles W. Folkerth, of Dayton, surrendered Culp to the officers with the Dayton warrant, he just saved the famous preacher from being served with a warrant charging non-support by prosecuting attorney J. Kenneth Williamson, of this city, who was armed with the warrant to prevent Culp's total escape from the arms of the law.

Culp was released from the Work House, where he was working out a year's sentence and a $500 fine for abandoning his wife and nine children, on a technicality. Judge Harry N. Runtzsch held that in the affidavit on which he was committed from the local court that the venue was not made sufficiently clear, because, due to an error of the printing company the words "State of Ohio" were not contained in the body of the document following the words "County of Greene."

The title at the head of the paper stated clearly "County of Greene, State of Ohio," but where the name of the county was repeated in the

CONTROVERSY OVER TREASURER'S OFFICE ARISES OVER QUESTION OF SHORT TERM; SECRETARY OF STATE TO GIVE RULING

Will there be a short term Treasurer elected in Greene County this fall?

An interesting controversy on whether the names of Elbert L. Babb and Mrs. Carrie R. Faulkner will appear as independent candidates for the short term of whether Mrs. Faulkner's present appointment will hold good, has arisen within the last 24 hours.

The newest chapter of the treasurer's office question was brought to light Friday when Mrs. Faulkner received a letter from Secretary of State Harvey C. Smith in which he rendered an opinion that there will be no short term candidates to elect in November. This letter was supplemented by a letter received by the board of elections Saturday morning substantiating the information in the letter to Mrs. Faulkner. Still later the Secretary of State expressed himself in a telephone conversation to Babb that these written opinions might be wrong and that it might be necessary for him to reverse himself.

The board of elections will not let its contracts for the printing of the November election ballots for about two weeks, according to Clerk Carl Ervin Saturday afternoon. In this time the board expects to receive a final decree on the question of whether the candidacies are valid, so that there will be no mistake in printing the tickets.

The letter received by Mrs. Faulkner was in answer to an inquiry directed by her to the Secretary of State, after she had filed her declaration of candidacy as an opponent to Babb for the supposed short term, which was believed would exist from the time of the regular election until the first Monday in August next year, when the regularly elected Treasurer is seated. The letter received by the board of elections said practically the same as the letter to Mrs. Faulkner and is as follows:

"Upon receipt of an inquiry from Mrs. Carrie Faulkner, Treasurer of Greene County, Ohio, appointed to fill the vacancy created by the death of John H. McVay, I beg to advise that I have informed Mrs. Faulkner that her appointment was for the unexpired term of the deceased Treasurer and that there is no provision of law for the election of a Treasurer of Greene County for the short term at the coming election.

"I am notifying you of this case because I have been informed that some declarations of candidacy for a short term have been filed with you. "You are hereby instructed that you are not warranted in providing for the election of a Treasurer for the short term."

Within a few hours after this opinion was received by Carl Ervin, clerk of the election board, Secretary of State Smith admitted to Babb the possibility of his having to reverse this opinion.

In a telephone conversation with The Gazette and The Republican Saturday afternoon the Secretary of State said:

"It appears to me that we may have to reverse ourselves so far as letters which were sent to the Greene County Board of Elections and the present Treasurer are concerned. Those letters were merely expressions of opinion and neither they, nor my statement this afternoon in this room, are final in any sense of the word. We will take this matter up with the attorney general's office early next week and will issue a final ruling after we have gone thoroughly into the law.

"Our office does not have to handle questions of this sort. They are up to the prosecuting attorney and the attorney general's office. As soon as we make a ruling on the matter it will be forwarded to the Board of Elections of Greene County."

Mr. Smith reiterated, with emphasis, that nothing he has said up to this time must be construed as being a final ruling on the subject. He did say, however, that in his opinion if no candidates had filed for the term under dispute, the incumbent would automatically remain in office for the entire unexpired term of John H. McVay.

This opinion offers two angles from which the Treasurer's fight can be considered. The situation in the office began when J. E. Sutton resigned as deputy and Elbert L. Babb was appointed by the late Treasurer John H. McVay to succeed him. At McVay's death the county commissioners appointed Mrs. Carrie R.

Faulkner treasurer, to succeed him, and Babb resigned as deputy immediately. Lawrence McKee being appointed in his place.

Both Babb and Mrs. Faulkner filed declarations of candidacy for the so-called short term on the last day of filing for independent candidacies. If these nominations are permitted to stand they will oppose each other for election for a term as Treasurer that will begin on the day of the regular election in November and end on the first Monday in August, 1923, when the candidate elected for the regular term at the regular election will take office. These regular term candidates are Frank Jackson, Republican and Harry A. Higgins, Democrat. Voters, if this condition will exist, will vote for one short term and one regular term candidate.

Mr. Babb said Friday that he had obtained an opinion on an existing vacancy from the Secretary of State before making his determination to be a candidate for the office. He also expressed confidence that the Secretary of State's statement Saturday would mean that the office holds had for running for the office holds good, and that both names will appear on the ballots in November.

Babb stated that his nomination by petition has been filed; that it has been accepted by the Board of Elections and ordered placed on the ballot, and that he is depending on Section 10 of the General Code, which, together with Section 2636,

General Code—Section 2636—How Vacancy in Office of Treasurer Filled.

When the office of County Treasurer becomes vacant by death, removal, resignation, neglect to give bond or other cause, the commissioners shall forthwith appoint a suitable person to fill such vacancy. The person so appointed shall give bond and take an oath as required by law.

General Code—Section 10—Term of Appointee to Elective Office.

When an elective office becomes vacant, and is filled by appointment, such appointee shall hold the office until his successor is elected and qualified. Unless otherwise provided by law, such successor shall be elected for the unexpired term at the first general election for the office which is vacant that occurs more than thirty days after the vacancy shall have occurred. This section shall not be construed to postpone the time for such election beyond that at which it would have been held had no such vacancy occurred, nor to affect the official term, or the time for the commencement thereof, of any person elected to such office before the occurrence of such vacancy.

OH, TO BE THOUGHT SOMEBODY GREAT, WHEN NOT SO.

A late London dispatch says Stowe house, probably the most famous of English seats, is to be put up at auction again October 11, the second time within a little more than a year.

It is proposed to sell the house and grounds of 272 acres as one lot, and the contents piecemeal during the following two days.

When Harry Shaw, an extensive estate owner, purchased Stowe last year for $250,000, he intended to turn it into some sort of an international institution and left an inference that he might present it to the Nation. He then entered negotiations with the Association of Preparatory School with the idea of coming to an agreement whereby the house might be made a huge school center, but nothing came of it.

Mr. Shaw is now in the country to escape questioners regarding the new chapter in the recent honors list scandal, in which, for the moment, he is figuring prominently.

The Duke of Northumberland, one of the Government's most persistent critics, has published letters signed by "H. Shaw," in which Shaw vaguely hinted that he might be an intermediary for obtaining honors.

As the matter now stands, the questions are whether Shaw approached wealthy untitled men with a proposition to procure for them a "sir" or "lord" for a large monetary consideration anywhere from $100,000 to $200,000 and whether he directly or indirectly was connected with the Cabinet.

Premier Lloyd George on two successive days denied he knew Shaw, and similar denials have been issued by Lieutenant Colonel Leslie Wilson, chief Coalition Unionist whip, and C. A. McCurdy, chief Coalition Liberal whip. Shaw has said nothing more than that he was willing for the whole matter to be sifted by the House of Lords, and, in the meantime, has left London.

The publication of the letters the Duke of Northumberland says were written by Shaw is simply another step of the Duke's efforts to have a thorough investigation of this year's honor list, which came in for a great deal of criticism. He raised the question in the House of Lords and read the two letters, but omitted all names and declined to make them public at that time.

With the exception of a South African millionaire who was convicted on a technicality for dealing with the enemy during the war and who declined his baronetcy during the uproar, Shaw is the first personality to be brought into the controversy.

The Duke of Northumberland promises not only to reveal Shaw's activities before the Royal Commission of Investigation, but to name the people he approached. He does not question whether Shaw made such overtures and says the only matter to be decided is whether he was directly or indirectly representing the Cabinet and significantly adds "but it would seem incredible that a mere irresponsible 'tout' having no connection whatever with the Government and without any means to make good his offers, would make such overtures to two hard-headed business men."

THE WORK OF FORD S. PRINCE AS COUNTY AGENT.

The organization of the Greene County Farm Bureau, a few years ago, meant more to the advantage of the farmers of the county than any movement they had ever made.

To "organize" means to arrange, to adjust, to regulate, to systematize. And each one of these four words means exactly what the business of the farmer had long needed. But Farm Bureau, the work of Mr. Prince is sought to be kept in the back and this our smart farmers also provided for in the shape of a "County Agent." The very words express the idea that he is at the head of everything of advantage to the members of the Farm Bureau.

The present County Agent is Mr. Ford S. Prince, and the elaborate notice, a few weeks ago, of what he has been able to do during his four years in that position, speaks for itself in this two column explanation of the work of the Greene County Farm Bureau, the work of Mr. Prince is sought to be kept in the background, and the credit given to the farmers themselves. This is Mr. Prince's way of putting it, for it is known that he is a very modest gentleman. But all the same, public opinion sees Mr. Prince's directing hand in the most of the good things that have been done.

CHILDHOOD AND THE FUTURE.

Judge Ben Lindsey, internationally known for his fine work for children in Denver's juvenile court, said recently: "The country is made by children, and no country can rise above what it makes of its children." If love for childhood is not enough to inspire individual parents and the general public to look after children, then calculating common sense should fill the gap.

From the ranks of today's children are recruited tomorrow's criminals, tomorrow's clean and responsible citizens. Wretched homes, poor schools, unrestricted child labor, mis-handling of child offenders and lack of constructive child training, force the maintenance of public prisons, public hospitals, public charities and asylums. It is Judge Lindsey's belief that 90 per cent of such institutions could be eliminated soon if the government got more solidly behind the child.

Children in the war zone were the first care of relief workers because it was realized that the future of Europe was bound up in its children. Children in this country should be the first care of public officials and private citizens, because the future of the nation is dependent upon the health, strength, sense and idealism of the rising generation.

THE RETURN OF ENOCH ARDEN

1902--Twenty Years Ago--1922

The location of the "stops" on the traction line at Goes Station are giving general dissatisfaction. Nine tenths of the people who patronize the road get mail at the post office and trade at the grocery and are obliged to walk to the power house to catch the car. The sale of tickets at the post office is urged.

The undertaking firm of Holmes, Breckenridge & Thomas have opened a grocery in the Meredith room at Main and Fair streets. Carts Nurseries at Yellow

Spring has a fall delivery of about $10,000, the largest in its history. The nursery is one of the latest in this county and all of the stock to be delivered this fall will be packed out of it.

The scarcity of houses for rent in Xenia is something phenomenal. Recent additions of people have come here to work in the Handle Factory, and the town is running over with people, almost to the running away point. The number of people who will move here to work in the new paper mill will make conditions much worse.

Exercises For Pronunciation

In a recent "Chat" I stated the reasons for the following exercises, which are part of an excellent course in elocution. They may also be considered as a course in beauty culture, since they build up the muscles of the lower part of the face, making the cheeks firm and the mouth youthful. Through the practise of these exercises mild cases of stuttering have been cured and all nervous habits of the mouth, like lip biting are apt to be overcome. So for other reasons than youth and beauty, they are worth trying and after they have become a habit they can be taken at all odd moments without consuming any extra time. A housekeeper can be taking the exercises while she does her work, or they may be taken while out for a walk, as they are done in whispers or orally.

The exercises amount to pronouncing a certain set of consonants placed before each of the vowels, in every one of their sounds, and the diphthongs of "oi" and "ow." If you are not familiar with all of the vowel sounds, any dictionary will give them. In pronouncing, each little syllable is to be given its full value of sound, while all of them are to be pronounced as rapidly as possible—taking breath at any convenient point. In practising, throw emphasis on one of the little syllables on each line, changing the emphasis to a different syllable every time the full set is completed. The emphasis must always fall in the same place on the different lines throughout the exercises. The sounds then become rhythmic, and much like marking time in music. The combinations are as follows:

ba da pa ta da
wa ba ja cha za
wa va fa va wa
spa ktha sfa
dra bla pia dwa gra kra

The last line of these combinations is designed to make the jaw hinge supple, and when it is taken with the two diphthongs it becomes a general set of exercises for the cheeks, mouth chin and throat.

After practicing these exercises all the facial muscles will feel refreshed, while the lips will be mobile. A few months of the work will make a difference of many years when the mouth has become premature aged and, in addition, the quality of the voice will become enriched.

Reader:—Deep breathing is the best way to develop the chest. Stand in an open window or outdoors and breathe deeply. Take in, at least, a dozen breaths, aiming to fill the lungs at the base first; after that aim for the middle part and the top part will take care of itself. Hold for three counts each time, and exhale in about the same number of counts.

Ellen:—The natural color of the hair will return after you have built up your health. The condition of the hair follows pretty much that of the whole system. Local treatments will help some but there cannot be complete recovery of the hair until the health is improved.

CIVIL WAR DAYS ARE RECALLED BY VETS IN REUNION HERE

Reminiscences of Civil War days, and eulogies on the events of those stirring times were recalled again by the members of the 74th Regiment, O. V. I., at the annual reunion held at the Post Hall in the Court House all day Thursday.

Opening at ten o'clock with the assembly call by a boy bugler, the old comrades met in all-day session to hear addresses, and to recall the day of '61. The address of welcome was given by Austin M. Patterson, of this city, a grandson of Captain McDowell, the events of the Civil War Days as related by his grandfather and the tokens left of the war, being chosen as the subject of the address which stressed the need of holding all memories of those days as sacred. Professor Patterson's address was followed by a talk by Judge L. E. St. John of Troy, a son of the late Frank St. John, a Civil War veteran. "We should cherish the principles of patriotism brought out in the Civil War," said the speaker who was well received by the old veterans and their families attending the session.

During the morning session a short memorial service was held, for the deceased members a basket of flowers being placed on the altar in their memory. The service closed with taps by the bugler from the O. S. and S. O. Home. "One Sweetly Sounded Thought" was sang by Miss Zelma Soward. Following the business meeting and the election of officers, a chicken dinner was served at the Chamber of Commerce by the sons and daughters of the Regiment.

"Tenting on the Old Camp Ground" and "Marching Through Georgia" were sung by the veterans in session following dinner, followed by the address of the day, by Judge L. E. St. John. Judge St. John alluered a eulogy on U. S. Grant bringing out the principles which this war leader stood for, and his rise to success following many failures, touching upon his boyhood at Point Pleasant, Ohio. Speeches of reminiscence by the veterans followed the address. A feature of the day's program was the singing of an old Scotch ballad, by a comrade from Dayton, by the name of Lauder, a member of the Scotch clan of Lauder. Letters were read during the morning sessions from members of the regiment who could not attend the reunion, including a poem by Mrs. Julia Galloway Olds.

Over one hundred people, including members of the regiment, their families, friends, and members of the local Civil War organizations, attended the session.

The following is the list of ex-soldiers of the 74th Regiment, present at the reunion: John Devoe, Co. H.; Henry H. Hopping, Co. A.; John Seldomridge, Co. 6; D. W. Perkins, Co. 6; Henry Stewart, Co. E.; John Ewry, Co. D.; A. B. Linsey, Co. B.; Morg Fudge, Co. A.; John Kirby, Co. E.; Wilson St. John, Co. A.; Michael Bennett, Co. F.; David Bennett, Co. F.; H. H. Kassell, Co. F.; Frank Bayless, drummer; T. J. North, Co. F.; Henry L. Romey, Co. H.; William F. Wilson, Co. F.; George Moore, Co. D.; John I. Barrows, Co. C.; and J. H. McPherson, Co. C.

STILES WILL PLAY

The veteran Les Stiles will be seen in action again Sunday when the Xenia Reds will play the Bowersville nine at the Washington St. Ball Park, the game being the only scheduled for Sunday in this city.

The game will start at three o'clock. The Reds will practice Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

USED BY THREE GENERATIONS

"I use Foley's Honey and Tar personally, give it to all my children and now to my grandchildren with the same good results. I tried many kinds of cough medicines, but never want anything but Foley's Honey and Tar," writes Mrs. E. K. Olson, Superior, Wis. Foley's Honey and Tar was established in 1875 and has stood the test of time serving three generations. It quickly relieves colds, coughs and croup, throat, chest and bronchial trouble. ALMOST CRAZY WITH PIMPLES

On Face, Could Not Sleep. Cuticura Healed.

"Pimples broke out on my forehead and soon spread all over my face. They were hard, large and red and festered. The pimples itched and burned so that I was almost crazy at times. My face was disfigured, and at night I could not sleep on account of the irritation."

"I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. They helped me so I purchased more, and after using four cakes of Cuticura Soap, with the Cuticura Ointment, I was healed." (Signed) Earl Johnson, R. 3, Box 37, Peebles, Ohio, Mar. 1, 1922.

RETIRED.

A sad old man sat by the sea, and wept in trumpet tones, and every time he looked at me he heaved some bitter groans; "I was a merchant prince," quoth he; "my name is Jimpson Jones. I had the finest dry goods store that ever eyes beheld, and strangers, when they glanced it o'er, threw up their hands and yelled; I was a happy man, of yore, but all my joys are knelled. 'I will retire from active life,' I said, though trade was fine; 'I'm weary of the toil and strife, at ease I would recline; I was encouraged by my wife, and by my daughters nine. 'In some nice grad beside the sea,' I said, 'I shall abide; a chair beneath a banyan tree, and I'll be satisfied; there with my pipe and fiddlers three, I'll let life's autumn slide.' And oft I heard my wife declare that such a course was best; my daughters went up in the air and said I needed rest; and so I sold out every share, and all that I possessed. All day I sit beside the wave and sigh and beat my slats, and people, when they hear me rave, imagine I have bats; oh, I would thank some surly knave to shoot me with his gats. For when a man is used to trade, with all its rush and roar, he feels like something dead, decayed, when he's outside a store; he'd see things measured out and weighed, and rest's an awful bore. I see you with your wooden lyre, you swat it once or twice, and while I sit here and perspire, I hand you this advice: Oh, never from your graft retire, while you can put up ice."

Today's Talk

by George Matthew Adams

ON BEING INSPIRED

I came upon a quotation the other day by one named Herder in which this writer says: "Without inspiration the best powers of the mind lie dormant. There is tinder in us that needs to be quickened with sparks."

This earth is filled with beauty and mystery and possibilities so that, inspiration may be born through us all.

Life, at its best, is filled with a strain of monotony and we must have sources from which we may draw our inspirations—that, we may rise and not fall, that we may grow and not shrink.

No matter how far short these brief little Talks may fall of their purpose to uplift and inspire, still the fact remains that for inspiration and that alone does a Talk appear here each day.

And I who write, get my inspiration out of my desire and attempt to inspire you who read.

A friend is for the purpose of inspiration.

Character, high purpose, clean thinking, a deep desire to make this world a better place in which to live, these are the results of inspiration.

And there is none of us who does not need to be inspired—quite often. Most inspiration, however, comes about through giving inspiration to others. Or else, from where could we draw all that we have?

It isn't so much what we actually accomplish as what we honestly, earnestly and hopefully attempt that establishes our standing and worth of our character. Not merely "Did you win—but did you try?" That, I am sure, will be the question of the Judges, when the last day's work is done.

YOUTHFUL HUNTER FIRST VICTIM OF HUNTING SEASON

Orville Newhart 17, of 1418 Schaefer Street, Dayton, was the first victim of hunting accidents in this vicinity Friday when his gun exploded while he was attempting to climb a fence the charge striking him in the neck.

The accident happened while Newhart with his father, Henry Newhart, William Leapey and Clarence Grady, all of Dayton, were squirrel hunting on the Charles Stubbs farm, about four miles from Waynesville and over the line in Warren County. With the remark that "there are too many hunters here," Newhart had left the party to go to his automobile.

Missing him later his companions conducted a search and his father found him lying near the fence, in which his gun was still caught. He was still breathing but died on the way to Waynesville. He is survived by his parents.

NEW GOLF CHAMPION FOR DAYTON CITY

J. E. Kelly, of the Xenia Country Club, runner up for the city golf championship of Dayton several years, was eliminated in the semi-final play for this year's tourney at the Community Country Club Friday by Lanferseich of the McGregor Golf Club, who shot the course in 68 to win.

As a result of his elimination of Kelly and his defeat of Bob Houk, Jr., of the Dayton Country Club, Lanferseich began the 36-hole final round with Howard Jordan, of the Community Country Club, the only other undefeated contestant, who worked his way into the finals by defeating O'Bannon, champion of the McGregor Club 1 up in the semi-finals Friday.

ZIMMERMAN

Thomas Trehanne, Clifford Williams and Edward Kundert left Monday for Granville to enter Denison University. Misses Louise Trehanne and Katherine Jacobs will leave next week to become students at Oberlin College.

A very interesting meeting of the Community Club was held at the home of Mrs. Neil Zimmerman Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. John Gerlaugh of Dayton, formerly of Aleys' neighborhood, gave a talk on "Piety in the Home," which was very much enjoyed and appreciated by those present. Refreshments of ice-cream and cake were served.

Misses May and Francis O'Hara attended the Miscellaneous shower given by Miss Hazel McCray at her home in Belmont, Saturday evening, in honor of her sister Miss Evelyn McCray who is soon to become the bride of Crawford Coy.

The Young Ladies Class of which she is a member, gave a Miscellaneous Shower in honor of Miss Mary Smart at her home in Zimmerman Tuesday evening. Miss Smart received a number of pretty and useful presents.

Miss Etta Marie Keibie entertained company of young people at her home at Shoup's Station Friday evening. A club was organized and was named "Just For Fun Club." Refreshments consisting of sherbet, cake and lemonade were served. The house was prettily decorated with golden rod and other autumn flowers.

Homer Cosler was given a very pleasant surprise Monday evening, the occasion being his birthday anniversary. About twenty five guests were present. Pink and white brick ice cream, cake and lemonade were served.

A pretty home wedding was solemnized Thursday afternoon in the presence of the immediate family and a few friends when Miss Mary Smart became the bride of Mr. Ray Rosell. Rev. Eldemiller performed the ceremony. The bride is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smart of Zimmerman. After the ceremony the newly-wedded pair left for the home of the groom's parents near Spratton where they will stay until Sunday.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
The Rev. R. E. Brown will preach at the morning service at 10:30 o'clock. The Rev. Mr. Brown is a candidate for the pastorate of the Church and members of the congregation will meet him at a conference which will follow the services. Large attendance at the morning service is desired.

TO START WORK IN NEW HOSPITAL TO COST 2 MILLIONS

Chillicothe, Ohio, Sept. 16.—Lieut. M. F. O'Connor, Q. M. C., U. S. A., is now on the scene ready to take up the special assignment work of constructing the U. S. veterans' hospital here at a cost of $2,000,000.

TRACY DENIES HE WILL MAKE ARRESTS AS RESULT OF FIRE

Columbus, Sept. 15.—Rumors that he is soon to make arrests in connection with the recent fire on the state fair grounds were branded today as positively false by State Auditor Tracy. He said the hasty removal of state highway property stored in the buildings just before their destruction was due to the necessity of making room for the state fair.

MT. TABOR

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Jones and family delightfully entertained the Loyal Sons and Daughters of the Bible Classes of the Mt. Tabor S. S. at their home southeast of Xenia, Wednesday evening, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Alva Brckel, whose marriage was solemnized recently.

Upon the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Brckel they were given an old fashioned "belong" after which refreshments were served. The evening was spent in playing various games and contests. Later in the evening, P. M. Buckwalter presented in behalf of the classes, a handsome set of silverware to Mr. and Mrs. Brckel. About fifty were present, all departing at a late hour, having thoroughly enjoyed the evening.

D. C. WIKE DIES IN HOME IN GEORGIA

O. C. Wike, 46, former resident of Yellow Springs, died Tuesday at his home in Savannah Georgia, following an attack of fever.

Mr. Wike was born near Yellow Springs, and spent twenty-two years there, associated with newspapers. He was the editor of the Yellow Springs News, and sold out his interests to go south, on account of ill health.

He is survived by his wife, three brothers, L. H. Wike, Gold Wike, of Los Angeles, California and Ned Wike of Tampa one sister, Mrs. Emma Hogan, of Springfield.

The body will be brought to Yellow Springs for burial.

LEGION AUXILIARY

TO MEET MONDAY.

The September meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary will be held Monday evening, September 18, at seven thirty o'clock, at the American Legion rooms.

Mrs. Elizabeth Anderson will have charge of the entertainment committee, and Miss Florence Swan is chairman of the menu committee.

Dr. and Mrs. Ford Benbow of Eaton, Ind., are spending two weeks at the home of Dr. Benbow's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Benbow of North Galloway Street.

AMERICA WILL NOT CANCEL BIG DEBTS

Washington, Sept. 16.—Congress will turn a deaf ear to all pleas for cancellation or modification of America's $11,000,000,000 worth of foreign debt; it was declared by leaders of both parties.

The proposal of Bernard Baruch, New York capitalist, that a portion of the British debt spent in this country for materials or war be cancelled in return for payment to the United States of sums spent for munitions in England met a stone wall of opposition in the senate. A preponderance of opinion was against modification of the foreign debts in any manner during present chaotic business conditions.

PACKING MERGER IS BELIEVED NEAR

Chicago, Sept. 16.—The much discussed merger between the great meat interests of Armour and Company and Wilson and Company, was again reported to be nearing consummation. The merger if effected would represent a combined valuation of $417,000,000.

Both J. Ogden Armour, head of the Armour interests and Thomas W. Wilson, president of Wilson and Company were in New York and this lent credence to the reports. The publicity department of Armour and Company issued a statement saying that officers of the company knew nothing of the reported merger.

Miss Anna M. McCormick, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. C. McCormick, left Saturday for Cincinnati to enter the fall clinic of the Ohio College of Dental Surgery, this being her senior year.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Benbow and daughter, Margaret, Louis who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Benbow of North Galloway Street, returned to their home in Gaston, Ind., Friday.

Mrs. George Haller has returned from a delightful ten weeks' trip through Colorado, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Lois Haller, registered graduate nurse from St. Mary's Hospital, Pueblo, Colorado. Miss Haller has since her graduation has been assistant to Dr. Lassen, noted ear, nose and throat specialist of Colorado.

The McGervey Sunday School Class of Trinity M. E. Church will meet at the home of Mrs. John Ary, on South Monroe Street, Monday evening, September 18, at seven-thirty o'clock.

WOMAN TOO WEAK TO WALK

Now Works Nine Hours a Day.—
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Strength

Union Village, Vt.—"I was weak and nervous and all run-down. I could not walk across the floor without resting and I had been that way for weeks. I saw your advertisement in the paper and after taking one bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt the good it was doing me and I took seven more in all. Before I finished I was able to work nine hours a day in a steam laundry. I cannot say too much in favor of your medicine. I trust all sick and suffering women will take it. It has been two years since I took it and I am strong and well."

—Mrs. L. A. GUIMANN, Union Village, Vermont.

This is only one of such letters we are continually publishing showing what Lydia E. Pinkham has done for women, and whether you work or not Mrs. Guimann's letter should interest you.

Many women get into a weak, nervous run down condition because of ailments they often have. Such women should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at the first sign of trouble. Good health is necessary and this splendid medicine will help you to keep it.

GEN. WOOD GIVEN ANOTHER LEAVE

Manila, Sept. 16.—J. W. Zeigler, official representative of the University of Pennsylvania announced that all misunderstandings between Gov. Gen. Wood and the regents of the university have been straightened out and Gen. Wood will be extended a third leave of absence at the regents' meeting next Monday in Philadelphia. This is the first meeting of that body since May.

According to Zeigler misgivings arose among the regents of the university because they did not realize the important work Gen. Wood was doing in the Philippines and the repeated extensions of the leave gave rise to the surmise that Wood was uncertain that he would ever take up the professorship of the Pennsylvania institution. Zeigler said Wood was certain to take up his work in Philadelphia early next year and added that he regretted Americans generally did not realize the tremendous achievements of their country in the islands.

HELPED HIS BACK

Backache, rheumatic pains, dizziness and blurred vision are symptoms of kidney trouble. "My husband had a bad back," writes Mrs. M. McCullough, Easton, Pa. WOMAN TOO WEAK TO WALK

Now Works Nine Hours a Day.—
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Strength

Union Village, Vt.—"I was weak and nervous and all run-down. I could not walk across the floor without resting and I had been that way for weeks. I saw your advertisement in the paper and after taking one bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt the good it was doing me in all. Before I finished I was able to work nine hours a day in a steam laundry. I cannot say too much in favor of your medicine. I trust all sick and suffering women will take it. It has been two years since I took it and I am strong and well."

Mrs. L. A. GUIMANN, Union Village, Vermont.

This is only one of such letters we are continually publishing showing what Lydia E. Pinkham has done for women, and whether you work or not Mrs. Guimann's letter should interest you.

Many women get into a weak, nervous run down condition because of ailments they often have. Such women should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at the first sign of trouble. Good health is necessary and this splendid medicine will help you to keep it.

SEN. WOOD GIVEN ANOTHER LEAVE

Manila, Sept. 16.—J. W. Zeigler, official representative of the University of Pennsylvania announced that all misunderstandings between Gov. Gen. Wood and the regents of the university have been straightened out and Gen. Wood will be extended a third leave of absence at the regents' meeting next Monday in Philadelphia. This is the first meeting of that body since May.

According to Zeigler misgivings arose among the regents of the university because they did not realize the important work Gen. Wood was doing in the Philippines and the repeated extensions of the leave gave rise to the surmise that Wood was uncertain that he would ever take up the professorship of the Pennsylvania institution. Zeigler said Wood was certain to take up his work in Philadelphia early next year and added that he regretted Americans generally did not realize the tremendous achievements of their country in the islands.

HELPED HIS BACK
Backache, rheumatic pains, dizziness and blurred vision are symptoms of kidney trouble. "My husband had a bad back," writes Mrs. M. McCullough, Easton, Pa. "When he sat down he could hardly get up and then he would be drawn over to one side. He tried Foley Kidney Pills and they cured him." Foley Kidney Pills quickly relieve kidney and bladder trouble. CENTRAL HIGH HAS ANOTHER WEEK TO GIVE TO PRACTICE

Coach Earl F. Burgner, of Central High School, will have one week more to train his football proteges for the opening game than he at first anticipated.

Consulting the scheduled resulted in the discovery that the Greenville encounter, which will inaugurate the interscholastic season locally, is not billed until September 29, although it was at first believed that game would be played September 22 or 23.

This gives the blue and white mentor another week's grace in which to rehearse his big squad of green material. This material is rapidly taking shape, say dopesters who have watched early practice sessions. While it will be necessary to develop players to fill a number of vacant positions, material for this purpose is available it is said. The combat with Greenville will be the first grid meeting of these two teams. After Greenville comes these in order: Troy at Xenia, Oct. 6; Wilmington at Xenia, Oct. 13; Piqua at Xenia, Oct. 20; West Alexandria at Xenia, Oct. 27; London at Xenia, Nov. 3; Greenfield at Xenia, Nov. 11; Washington C. H. at Xenia, Nov. 17; Springfield at Springfield Nov. 25.

As the sked indicates, out of the nine games, seven will be played in the home balliwick while only two will be staged abroad which will be welcome news to local fans.

ANTIOCH FOOTBALL PROSPECTS GOOD

Football prospects at Antioch College this year are looking good in spite of the continuance of the co-operative plan which makes it impossible to play more than four games this season.

Thirty men of Division "A" are now being rehearsed in the piskin game including five letter-men from last year's eleven. Besides these veterans, the freshmen contingent contains some promising material, including Bachelor, who weighs 205 pounds and hails from Lowell High School, and Swartz, who had two years grid experience at Kenosha, Wisconsin. Fred "Sunkist" Mortenson, the California flash, is tackle and captain of the team.

The division "A" eleven play two games, one with Kenyon at Kenyon, September 29, and the other with Cedarville at Yellow Springs Oct. 6. Division B will play its first game with Baldwin-Wallace at Yellow Springs November 3 and will play Cedarville at Cedarville November 11. The co-operative plan will make it impossible for the eleven to play more than four games this season.

The first meeting will be in the nature of a supper at the church, at which time Mrs. L. H. Finney, delegate from the local club to the national Federation Convention, held at Chattanooga, Tennessee, will give her report. Supper will be served at six o'clock.

EAST END NEWS

The East High School opened Monday morning in the new building. Although the work is not completed, the class rooms were in readiness to receive the pupils.

At 9:45, Principal Taylor assembled the teachers and pupils for devotional service in the study hall. This room is large and well suited to its purpose. Many parents were also present, and ministers were together at the front.

Sept. Waltz was impressive in his remarks. It was a wise and thoughtful statement. Mr. Beacham, business manager of the schools gave a talk on buildings and how to keep them beautiful.

The ministers and others spoke. A number of visitors were present, among whom were Mr. Payne Middleton and the Misses James of Los Angeles, California, former students of East High School. U. S. Will Not Engage In Trouble; May Send Relief

Washington, Sept. 16.—State department officials today were anxiously awaiting a reply from Constantinople to the American proposal that this government cooperate with the allies for the relief of refugees in Asia Minor. Additional dispatches bearing upon the whole Syria situation are expected momentarily. Any plan submitted by Admiral Bristol, American high commissioner, it was emphasized, must be limited strictly to relief work. The United States will take no part in the political embroglio which threatens to involve practically all the other great powers.

In the absence of definite information the department made no statement as to responsibility for the burning of Smyrna and could not confirm reports of widespread massacre and pillage.

Chief responsibility for relieving the situation, officials here said rests with the allies. Not only have they troops, equipment and warships on the ground, but they also have been taking an active part in events leading up to the capture of Smyrna, from which this government has consistently stood aloof.

The developments in Asia Minor, in the opinion of officials here, are but a phase of the secret intrigues which have been going on in Europe virtually since the close of the world war. Involved in these are such far reaching questions as German reparations, dominant French or British influence in the near east and control of the Dardanelles.

The consistent support of Turkey by France, and of Greece by Great Britain, results, it is believed, from the long standing controversy between the French and British over the question of German reparations and French military dominance in Europe. To what lengths London and Paris are prepared to go, remains to be seen.

AN AWKWARD MEETING Chapter 72

Donald and Nellie strolled slowly up the Avenue, stopping to look into the windows wherever the curtains did not shut out their view of the display. When they reached the Park, Donald proposed they sit on one of the benches and rest before returning.

Donald talked gayly for half an hour, Donald telling Nellie of his aspirations, that he had written a story that had been accepted by a popular magazine, and of others he had in mind.

"How wonderful!" she breathed. "You won't be an editor now, will you? You'll be an author."

"Oh, I don't know about that! Selling one story means nothing. I have had dozens returned."

"But perhaps you didn't send them to the right people," Nellie replied. She thought it wonderful to be able to put one's thoughts into words, to write and sell stories. "But we must go back. I promised Mrs. Roberts to come in a few moments before I went to bed."

Unwillingly, Donald rose and they walked slowly down past the brilliantly lighted entrance to the plaza Hotel.

Down the steps came George Fallon and another man. The former stopped abruptly, raised his hat, his face unsmiling, then stepped into a motor, followed by his companion.

Nellie felt the blood rush to her face. Oh, why had she left the house? There had been something in Fallon's unsmiling look that drained all happiness from her; that made her feel he might think she had deceived him; and there was something between her and Donald Horne.

There was no reason she should feel ashamed of Donald. He was tall, straight, neatly dressed. Yet she almost hated him as they walked side by side down the Avenue, all her vivacity gone; her desire to look at

"pretty things" forgotten. When Donald spoke of it, she answered impatiently:

"I'm tired. I want to go home."

The next morning at breakfast the acid faced woman remarked:

"Did you have a pleasant walk last night, Miss Riley?"

"No—Yes!" Nellie, who had passed an almost sleepless night, snapped.

"Love is a thing of bliss, the poets tell us," Miss Pitt smirked at Nellie, as she said it, then cast a meaningful glance about the table.

"I should think, Miss Pitt, that it might depend a whole lot upon whether that love was mutual. It might be hell for one party, instead of bliss."

"Oh, Miss Riley!" Miss Pitt beamed in a shocked tone.

"Miss Riley is right, Miss Pitt," Mrs. Roberts broke in, unless love is a mutual affair it is not happiness. I take it you are talking of love between men and women?"

"Yes, although it is a subject I seldom discuss."

"One needs to know about a thing to talk about it!" Nellie exclaimed in her old impudent manner, a manner she now seldom used; then rose from the table, and flounced out of the room, much to Mrs. Roberts' amusement. She had not patience with Miss Pitt, and her old-maidish ways.

Mr. Fallon said "good morning" as usual, but that was all. Save to dictate his letters he made no conversation with Nellie, hardly looked in her direction all day. It was Saturday. On Monday she would take Miss Jones' place, occupy her desk, so near Mr. Fallon's.

"Oh, why did he have to see me, and what does he think? I don't dare say a word, but I'll bet he thinks I lied about Donald," Nellie soliloquized.

Her hat was on, she was about to leave, when he said:

"Did you have a pleasant walk last night?"

"Yes. Mr. Horne asked me to go to

An excellent two course lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by her two young daughters, Josephine and Wilda Mae Hulel.

CURRENTS ARE GROWN FROM NEW CUTTINGS

Currents are easily propagated in the home fruit garden from cuttings of the new wood if a few simple directions are followed as given by J. H. Gourley, horticulturist, Ohio Experiment Station.

Take cuttings of the current 5 to 8 inches long in the early fall and set in rows or heel in together in a well drained spot until early spring. Less than an inch of the cutting should protrude above ground and this may be covered with a light mulch of manure after the first frost to keep the cuttings from being heaved out and the roots broken by spring freezing.

U. S. Will Not Engage In Trouble; May Send Relief

Washington, Sept. 16.—State department officials today were anxiously awaiting a reply from Constantinople to the American proposal that this government cooperate with the allies for the relief of refugees in Asia Minor. Additional dispatches bearing upon the whole Syria situation are expected momentarily. Any plan submitted by Admiral Bristol, American high commissioner, it was emphasized, must be limited strictly to relief work. The United States will take no part in the political embroglio which threatens to involve practically all the other great powers.

In the absence of definite information the department made no statement as to responsibility for the burning of Smyrna and could not confirm reports of widespread massacre and pillage.

Chief responsibility for relieving the situation, officials here said rests with the allies. Not only have they troops, equipment and warships on the ground, but they also have been taking an active part in events leading up to the capture of Smyrna, from which this government has consistently stood aloof.

The developments in Asia Minor, in the opinion of officials here, are but a phase of the secret intrigues which have been going on in Europe virtually since the close of the world war. Involved in these are such far reaching questions as German reparations, dominant French or British influence in the near east and control of the Dardanelles.

The consistent support of Turkey by France, and of Greece by Great Britain, results, it is believed, from the long standing controversy between the French and British over the question of German reparations and French military dominance in Europe. To what lengths London and Paris are prepared to go remains to be seen.

The gesture of the Greeks toward Constantinople which precipitated the present crisis is believed to have been with at least the tacit consent of Great Britain. The decision of Premier Poincare to withdraw French troops to the European side of the straits is interpreted as meaning France would not oppose an advance by the Turks upon Constantinople.

Great Britain herself, there is reason to believe, would not obstinately oppose occupation of Constantinople by the Turks, provided Gallipoli and the Dardanelles remained under allied control, nor would the other powers.

This plan would doubtless prove satisfactory to soviet Russia temporarily at least, as the bolsheviks would prefer their comparatively weak Turkish allies in the former Turkish capital to the British. Roumania, too, would prefer to have the Turks between her and Russia, provided a suitable entente were made.

However, Great Britain's policy toward Constantinople may work out, it is believed, certain she will not surrender her hold on Gallipoli and the Dardanelles without a little struggle. From some points of view, control of those narrow straits was the greatest benefit Great Britain derived from the world war and her eagerness to bear Russia to the prize was shown by her haste in dispatching the ill fated Gallipoli expedition. They control means not only a check upon a restored Russia, but also is a guarantee of the route to India and a barrier against any future revival of such a movement as that attempted by the Germans toward Bagdad.

Great Britain has no great land force available against the Turks, who are known to have some 80,000 men in the field, with approximately 800,000 world war veterans scattered through Asia Minor who need only equipment to make them first class fighting men. Apparently reliable information here indicates that to date the Turks have had no great difficulty in securing French supplies and equipment.

AN AWKWARD MEETING Chapter 72

Donald and Nellie strolled slowly up the Avenue, stopping to look into the windows wherever the curtains did not shut out their view of the display. When they reached the Park, Donald proposed they sit on one of the benches and rest before returning.

Donald talked gayly for half an hour, Donald telling Nellie of his aspirations, that he had written a story that had been accepted by a popular magazine, and of others he had in mind.

"How wonderful!" she breathed. "You won't be an editor now, will you? You'll be an author."

"Oh, I don't know about that! Selling one story means nothing. I have had dozens returned."

"But perhaps you didn't send them to the right people," Nellie replied. She thought it wonderful to be able to put one's thoughts into words, to write and sell stories. "But we must go back. I promised Mrs. Roberts to come in a few moments before I went to bed."

Unwillingly, Donald rose and they walked slowly down past the brilliantly lighted entrance to the plaza Hotel.

Down the steps came George Fallon and another man. The former stopped abruptly, raised his hat, his face unsmiling, then stepped into a motor, followed by his companion.

Nellie felt the blood rush to her face. Oh, why had she left the house? There had been something in Fallon's unsmiling look that drained all happiness from her; that made her feel he might think she had deceived him; and there was something between her and Donald Horne.

There was no reason she should feel ashamed of Donald. He was tall, straight, neatly dressed. Yet she almost hated him as they walked side by side down the Avenue, all her vivacity gone; her desire to look at

"pretty things" forgotten. When Donald spoke of it, she answered impatiently:

"I'm tired. I want to get home." The next morning at breakfast the acid faced woman remarked:

"Did you have a pleasant walk last night, Miss Riley?"

"No—Yes!" Nellie, who had passed an almost sleepless night, snapped. "Love is a thing of bliss, the poets tell us." Miss Pitt smirked at Nellie, as she said it, then cast a meaning glance about the table.

"I should think, Miss Pitt, that it might depend a whole lot upon whether that love was mutual. It might be hell for one party, instead of bliss."

"Oh, Miss Riley!" Miss Pitt breathed in a shocked tone.

"Miss Riley is right, Miss Pitt," Mrs. Roberts broke in, unless love is a mutual affair it is not happiness. I take it you are talking of love between men and women?"

"Yes, although it is a subject I seldom discuss."

"One needs to know about a thing to talk about it!" Nellie exclaimed in her old impudent manner, a manner she now seldom used; then rose from the table, and flounced out of the room, much to Mrs. Roberts' amusement. She had not patience with Miss Pitt, and her old-maidish ways.

Mr. Fallon said "good morning" as usual, but that was all. Save to dictate his letters he made no conversation with Nellie, hardly looked in her direction all day. It was Saturday. On Monday she would take Miss Jones' place, occupy her desk, so near Mr. Fallon's.

"Oh, why did he have to see me, and what does he think? I don't dare say a word, but I'll bet he thinks I lied about Donald," Nellie soliloquized. Her hat was on, she was about to leave, when he said:

"Did you have a pleasant walk last night?"

"Yes. Mr. Horne asked me to go to a movie, but it was such a lovely night I asked him to walk instead. I like to look in the windows on the Avenue." She had spoken simply, intuitively knowing that with him it was best.

"Is that the man that lives at your boarding house?"

"Yes, the newspaper man." Then: "I had promised to see Mrs. Roberts, the old lady I told you of, so couldn't be out long."

Did his face brighten, look happier, or was it her imagination? He said goodnight in his old genial manner, making some remark about her new duties which would begin on Monday.

Even Miss Pitt could not annoy Nellie at dinner. Nothing mattered if Mr. George was not displeased with her.
